School board is tart on referees

Trustees of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District let it be known Monday night they were displeased with the officiating at last weekend's sub-district basketball tournament staged at Bay High School.

The matter was raised by Trustee Maurice Arizaga, who observed the school was being blamed in the case. While he suggested a resolution directed to the sponsoring state athletic association, Robert L. Hamilton, board president, said he believed the complaint would be best handled informally.

Superintendent J. D. McCullough explained the procedure in selecting schools to host the tournaments and that each of the participating schools has one vote to choose who the officials for that particular sub-district event shall be.

Under criticism was the divergent view of the officials which in the final boys' game halted play for about 15 minutes at a critical stage.

Preparing for the school year's anticipated growth occupied the bulk of the formal meeting during which the board approved on McCullough's recommendation, retiring of the three school principals for the coming session: E. G. Harrell, elementary schools; Donald Caldwell, Bay High School; and J. S. Price, Valena C. Jannet.

The superintendent also mentioned the board that with many newcomers already enrolling their children in the Bay schools they can expect to hear many views from all parts of the country on teaching methods, grades.

Nab 3 more in Beach Drug case

Three Louisiana inmates by the January grand jury for burglary in the theft of the Western Union safe from Beach Economy Drug last May were arrested in Covington, La., last Thursday, Chief Deputy Sheriff Gerald V. Price, Jr., said this week.

He said the trio signed confessions to their role in the burglary and have been released on $5,000 bond each for appearance at the May term of Circuit Court.

Planning consultants interviewed by board

Interviewing three prospective planning consultants for Hancock County occupied the board of supervisors Monday morning and another is due to appear this coming Monday.

Getting the benefits of a comprehensive master plan for the development of the county or portions of it and related ordinances to implement the plan were Robert Bateman of Mobile, who is doing Bay St. Louis' master plan; Dan S. Martin of New Orleans, and representatives of Planning Service, Inc., of New Orleans. D. M. Dornblatt, presently retained by Waveland, is to speak Monday.

Arthur McArthur, county engineer, went over with the supervisors the status of state and federal aid for roads in Hancock County, saying there is now $194,161 in state aid not under contract and $63,000 in federal money. However $112,000 of the state money is obligated for a Beat 3 project and $25,000 from Uncle Sam.

Supervisor James D. Macaluso of Beat 4 objected that the figures left him without getting a road job in his beat upon entering his fourth year in office. R. G. Hubbard, board chairman, observed Macaluso's predecessor had gotten two jobs—for $72,000 and $102,000, whereas the $155,000 job recently completed in Beat 5 was the first in his 12 years on the board.

Charles Carter, Jr., representing the Bay St. Louis Jaycees, presented that organization's findings as a result of its public hearing last week on the grand jury recommendation that steps be taken promptly to provide adequate Courthouse facilities.

In that connection earlier in the meeting Earl Ramond appeared to outline the position he had taken at the Jaycees hearing and expressed violent disagreement with the news account in the Sea Coast Echo of his statements at the meeting. Hubbard added he thought the hearing was "premature on the part of everybody."

Status of the proposed addition to Hancock General Hospital through federal grant was reviewed by Administrator Thomas G. Logue who was advised (Cont. on Page 6.)

Fences in zoning

"Good fences may make good neighbors" but Wavelandians don't want them limited to two and one-half feet in height. If the audience at Friday night's public meeting on the proposed zoning ordinance has anything to say about it.

Except for that restriction D. M. Dornblatt, engineering consultant, was able to satisfy questions from the sparse gathering although on some points he had to rely on a planned building and subdivision code yet to be made public.

When Mayor Garfield Leher introduced the Planning Commission members at the conclusion of the two-hour hearing they were greeted with applause and indications were that the proposed ordinance would be adopted as published except for fence restrictions. Some modification on height and definition of those cases certain. After the meeting Alderman A. N. Gross, not noted for being tall, remarked that he "could step over a fence that high" and a bystander remarked he could still have both feet on the ground.

John Wheat, long sup'vr. dead at 79

John Berry Wheat, 79, Beat 2 supervisor of Hancock County for 32 years, a retired road supervisor, piling contractor and sawmill operator, died at 2:58 a.m. Sunday at Crosby Memorial Hospital in Piquette where he had lived for the past 12 years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Caroline Shaw; six daughters, Mrs. Hattie Slade, Mrs. Jewell Peronne, Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. E. E. Spence, all of Gulfport; Mrs. Jimmy Welch, Lawton, Okla.; Mrs. J. K. Anthony, Memphis, Tenn.; three sons, Robert Wheat of Piquette, Haywood Wheat of Bogalusa; and Mrs. Mildred Spears, all of Piquette.

Funeral services were Monday at McDonald Funeral Home followed by Masonic rites at 10 a.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Sewer project clears hurdle

Bay St. Louis cleared the first hurdle in its application for federal aid for the proposed sewer and water project when the U. S. Public Health Service last week approved the petition.

Notice of the OK came last week from Senator John Stennis and Congressman William Colmer. Mayor John Scalfie got word yesterday from the State Health Department of its approval.

This particular application was for three waste stabilization ponds.

United Protestant services next week

Rev. Lane G. Adams of Miami, Fla., who was reared in Bay St. Louis, will return to his childhood home next week to conduct a week-long United Protestant Community Inspirational Service at First Baptist Church. Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Sidney Buckley, director of music for First Baptist Church of Gulfport, will direct the special music by the combined choirs of the Protestant churches in the Bay. Mrs. J. B. Goldman will be organist and Mrs. Carl T. Smith and Mrs. Toy Tedford will be pianists.

An informal reception is planned after Monday night's service for Mr. Adams to enable those who do not know the guest minister to meet him and for those in need of counseling. Another informal meeting for youth groups with Mr. Adams at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson, 800 West Beach, Pass Christian, is scheduled after Friday's service.

In addition, Mr. Adams will lead a study hour at 10 a.m. Tuesday through Friday at "How I Can Know If I Am A Christian."

During the inspirational services a nursery will be provided at the church. Transportation will be furnished by calling P. R. Porter, Jr.

Mr. Adams, now pastor of Key Biscayne Presbyterian Church in Miami, was born in New Orleans, attended the University of Mississippi and was

REAPPORTIONMENT VOTE

Official canvases by the County Election Commission last Thursday showed the constitutional amendment on reapportionment carried here by 537 to 96.

Suit to change the beat boundaries of Hancock County was filed in Chancery Court yesterday by three county voters, Powell Glass, Jr., Dr. A. K. Martinovich, Jr., and Wilbert L. Argus.

The complainants claim that the present district boundaries in Hancock County violate the Code of Mississippi, the Constitution of Mississippi and the Constitution of the United States. This action follows the successful action by Gulfport citizens to force reapportionment of the state which was approved by a better than a four to one vote last week, and the similar successful suit last year concerning voting rights in Tennessee. Since then, under federal law, suits have been brought in Georgia, New York, Virginia, Florida and elsewhere, all successful.

In the Hancock County suit complainants allege that District 5, comprising the county's only two municipalities as well as its two larger unincorporated communities has approximately twice the population of the other four districts and pays more than twice the taxes, and asks the Chancery Court to prohibit the election commissioners, Dan M. Russell, Jr., Johnson Shaw and J. Roland Weston, from holding an election except on an equal basis until the board of supervisors first redistricts the county "in the manner prescribed by law."

Plaintiffs' attorney in the suit is Upton Sisson of Gulfport who handled the Mississippi case and was associated in the Tennessee case.

Helicopter use eyed for transport at MTO

Several officials from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration including one man from the NASA headquarters office of manned space flight are slated to visit Mississippi Test Operations today.

Harry Mitchell from the office of program review and resources management, office of Manned Space Flight at Washington, D. C., will be in the group. Mitchell will be accompanied by Capt. William C. Fortune, manager of the MTO; Marion Kent assistant to the deputy director of administration, Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala., and other officials from Manned Operations in New Orleans and Huntsville.

CHECKS DUE SOON

Payment of January warrants on the county general fund, withheld by the board of supervisors last week because of finances were not sufficient to meet the bills this month since a settlement from the sheriff's office on property taxes is due Feb. 20, a Courthouse attache said yesterday.

HELICOPTERS MAY PLAY A VITAL

transportation role at the test center connecting it with Manned Operations and other air service locations. Mack Herring arrived Sunday night from Huntsville to assume his duties as public information officer at MTO. He and his wife are presently staying in Long Beach but hope to find a home shortly in the Bay area.

Waveland property considered for school

Buy of a 20-acre tract in 6th Section at Pearl River is possible future school site informally authorized by county board of education Thursday.

Charles R. Murphy, board president, asked J. Roland Weston, surveyor, to make the survey so the site might be reserved now if suitable. Heavy growth is noted in this area when A-1 Test Operation is started, besides the fact that school will be closed down next year to make way for the MTO buffer zone.

Architect Dalton Shourds met with the board to discuss bids received earlier in the week on a four or six room addition at Hancock North Central School but a decision was reserved until this afternoon when it is hoped the board's attorney, Walker J. Phillips, can be present. Shourds noted the two low bids had irregularities on one item each which he wanted cleared legally before a decision is reached.

Murphy observed that with the prices submitted it would seem four classrooms are all that can be built at this time. January claims were approved for payment on motion of S. P. Powell, seconded by Lamar Lee, after question of the telephone items, Legis Nacalse inquired about buying gas from other than the firm under contract, arguing that the man hired to check the school buses should see tanks are filled so they don't run out unexpectedly.

Paulette is in the 11th grade, Mary Ellen is in the 10th, Nancy and Donna Lou (twins) are in the sixth grade. The Halls attended Fayetteville High School in North Carolina.

Mrs. Nora Cameron is in Gulfport Hospital this week where she is undergoing tests.

The CVO of Annunciation Parish met last Monday as it usually does. Booklets were given out to members on the Brotherhood, pointing out the need for brothers and nuns in these trying times.

North Central gym was the scene of madness Saturday night as the finals of the Sub-District II tourney began. As the night progressed the roars and yells could be heard all the way out to the highway. The P.R.C. girls vs. Poplarville Hornets was the first game and fans were actually going mad. The Hornets won the game and "What a game." When it came time for the Hawks-Picayune Tide game, there are no words which could describe the fans. After fighting all the way the Hawks brought the trophy home with a "10-9" score.

Orelia Ladner worked very hard all during the sub-district tourney keeping score. J. D. Penton presented the trophies Saturday night. Receiving the trophy for the Hawks was Berlin Ladner. Penton thanked students and teachers alike for their help in making the tourney a success. All students are proud of the Hawks and hope to see that "State Champs" '62-'63 trophy in our trophy case.

Linda Stewart, Brenda Stockstill, and Ann Wickton are just a few students of H.N.C. who are hoarse from the after effects of Saturday night's games.

Rev. Mallery Dugan, pastor of Annunciation Parish, announced that work on Annunciation Elementary School is coming along fine. The people of the parish are asked to keep their children out of the building because of the danger to them and the welfare of all concerned.

The junior class of H.N.C. was in Bay St. Louis last week to view a movie version of the Broadway musical "Annie Get Your Gun." L. C. Carrington and Mrs. C. T. Favre, class sponsors, journeyed with the group. The class hopes to present the musical if all problems can be ironed out.

A wedding coming up! Harold Necaize is to marry Betty Swilly, Feb. 23 at Debeaux Church reception at Debeaux School. Relatives and friends are invited.

HGH auxiliary duties cited, seek members

Various services performed by the Hancock General Hospital auxiliary were cited this week by Mrs. Frank Embrey, publicity chairman, as the organization continues its membership drive.

Tasks undertaken by the volunteers include serving at the auxiliary desk in the hospital lobby, giving information to visitors, distributing the mail and daily papers, caring for flowers, television service and the like. This, she noted, takes considerable load off the nursing staff and helps make the patient's stay in the hospital more pleasant.

Ten auxiliary members nominated at the emergency blood drawing last week.

County attainment day discussed at 4-H club meetings

Plans for County Attainment Day which will be March 29 were discussed at meetings of 4-H Clubs at Hancock North Central School last week.

Mrs. Joseph Hagdon, home demonstration agent, also checked exhibits and gave out color and cook books when the fourth and fifth grade clubs met. A demonstration on introductions and courtesies was given for the sixth grade club and recipe books were judged. The Book, prepared by Mary Cantey, was chosen picture of the month. Kathy Westbrook presented and Patsy Patterson read the 4-H creed. Debbie Hubert, secretary, called the roll and read minutes of the last meeting.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club's anti-litter campaign appears to have infected just about everyone with a dose of civic pride. It really doesn't take much effort to effect vast improvement. Just putting that empty cigarette pack or candy wrapper in your pocket instead of tossing it on the ground—that is, if a trash container isn't convenient—will make lots of difference. Cleaning one's yard isn't at all difficult at this particular time of year as even weeds are dead and may easily be raked into piles and burned. It'll be lots harder in a few weeks when fresh green roots take hold in the soil. Much of the litter is due to unthinking little ones dropping anything and everything on the ground...so it might be well for parents to deliver a lecture on the subject—we really don't think just talking will do much good, but perhaps giving a child yard patrol duty each Saturday morning—that is let him (or her) pick up each bit of paper on the lawn and you'll be surprised to note how much less litter you'll find around next week!

Spurge up fever takes hold

Several Beach Blvd. residents were busily improving their property bright and early Saturday morning. The Herbert Ratenburgs were removing dead palm fronds from their front lawn, Paul O'Donnell applied a shiny coat of paint to his mail box and the Earl Cauzebons' attractive rambling St. Joseph street home can be clearly seen since their removal campaign.

Another public spirited citizen, who shall by his request go unnamed, conscientiously attended the public meeting in regards to Waveland's new zoning ordinance Friday night only to discover a dozen stray cows blocking the driveway on his return home. To make matters worse, they were sleeping soundly and it took several moments to persuade them to move!

A very happy birthday wish goes to Mrs. Ed Harris. Mr. Harris took her out to dinner on the day, Feb. 8. The Harris report that Meridian also suffered a rough winter but despite colds and the like, they're fine.

Another birthday wish is sent to Mrs. Arthur Bourgeois who celebrated Feb. 3. Mrs. Bourgeois moved to New Orleans last Thursday, but will be returning to Waveland frequently as daughter-in-law and son Ned and Eddie are soon to begin construction on their new home here.

Glad to hear that Mrs. Lucille Carr is well on the road to recovery following recent surgery. Her daughter Claire (Mrs. Otto) Bourgeois is also up and about again having spent last week in bed. She's expecting the arrival of the third little Bourgeois in the next two or three weeks.

Marcello Bradley is on the mend having been very ill last week. We're truly sorry we didn't know she was sick until the worst was over. Fortunately good friend Lois Morano was there to see that everything was under control.

Zelda and Ken Waltman entertained at one of their lovely parties last Saturday night—the guests arrived with the storm but a good time was had by all despite the weather.

Watching the horses

As the end of racing season draws near more and more local residents may be spied at the Fairgrounds watching the bang-tails take off. Some taking advantage of last Wednesday's beautiful weather to enjoy such an outing included Mary and Del Wilcox, 'Push' Cox, Grace and Lionel (Sam) Bordages, Belle Peterson, Gladys Baxter, Nettie Burleigh, Elaine Davis, Ray and Wilfred Bordages, Doris Wilday and Shirley Hawkins. Incidentally we'll be missing Shirley and husband Ed for a few weeks—Shirley entered at New Orleans hospital for major surgery Friday.

The Lennie Ruppert spent the weekend in their summer home on old Pat and John Cahoon, Josie and Clarence Herbig, Elaine and B. E. Steinhilber, Pugs and Eddie Kingsmill, and Paul Sherrouse—or rather Paul had intended weekend here, for the first time since Christmas had discovered numerous unattended pipes so decided to return to the Crescent City where he could at least enjoy a hot bath!

Ann Proctor was a beautiful bride when she and Howie Franks were wed Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf, Linda Herbig, her maid of honor, looked like a doll in her dress of turquoise peau de soie. Both mammals looked much too young to have married offspring—Annabel Proctor chose blue lace with matching accessories, Mrs. Franks wore a most becoming Italian print...and we must comment on the sartorial perfection of Dick—father of the bride—he was quite handsome although he insisted completely miserably in his tux. Clermont-Harbor Youth Center was decorated with white stock and daisies flanked with white tapers for the reception. A few of the guests included Mattie and Lloyd Garcia, Mercedes, A. Mercedes, II, and Bob Spahr, Lillian Garcia and of course Marilyn, Gloria and Herbert Peterson, Claudia and Frank Klein, Claudia,

Kiddies' diseases hit

It's childhood disease time once again—little Caffey Lee Ramsey is abed with chicken pox and not only do all six little Lipscombs have mumps, pappa Jerry is down with the same ailment.

A large turnout enjoyed delicious home cooked food, dancing to music of the Gulf Coast Ramblers, and just visiting at the benefit shooting match for Mrs. Sam Tartavouille at the Lakeshore Civic Center Sunday afternoon. Mr. Tartavouille, still walking with a cane as the result of a hip broken in a fall last year, was managing to get around quite well. A large crowd from Rigoles including Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Garcia, Ed and Monroe Fitzmorris and daughter Tyna, Mr. and Mrs. David Billings, Mrs. Cecile Garcia and daughter, Mrs. F. Rozarios, Mrs. James Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garcia. Of course 'Uncle' Joe Yarbrough was present, don't think he missed a dance nor did Gumbo Saucier.

Happy birthday greetings to Hickey Schwartz who was 43 Feb. 13, and to Manuel Neacise who gives his age away admitting that he first saw the light of day March 9, 1904.

Mrs. Sara Macaluse Thorning had a handsome escort Sunday night as she celebrated her birthday.

Obviously the small red hat is finding more and more popularity with local gentlemen—We think Roland Weston was first to sport the gay head gear. Now Lucien Raymond and Red Chafin are also crimson topped.

Smeliose advises

One of the messiest aftermaths of extremely cold weather is tiny bits of dead grass and small leaves that get on the soles of one's shoes and adhere like glue until dry, they then fall all over carpets in a filthy little shower—we've solved this by placing small braided rugs in front of each outside door—when they're soiled it's no problem to toss them into the washing machine, and another tip—lay them flat on the floor just before they're completely dry and they won't hump up in the middle.

Flower winner

Mrs. Paul Miller deserves more than the blue ribbon won in Class 3-B judging in the Ozona Camellia show in Slidell last week—anyone who can produce any kind of blossom at present is due all sorts of congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Springer who own a summer home in Ansley visited Mrs. Charles Bradley last Sunday—bringing the dinner no less—or rather their daughter from Long Beach furnished the food, but unfortunately we've forgotten her name.

We've admired many new homes, but must confess we've fallen in love with Dr. and Mrs.

This Sunday, February 17, we are throwing wide the doors of the newly renovated Reimann's Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis so that you and your family may have an ideal opportunity to inspect the beautiful facilities we now make available to families in this area.

You may never again have an opportunity to inspect a funeral home under such favorable conditions. We suggest that you bring the family and a group of friends, so that all may see what a truly modern funeral home offers to the public.

Each group will be conducted through the entire establishment, and members of our staff will welcome all your questions. Almost everyone has at least a few questions he'd like to ask--this will be a unique opportunity to have them answered.

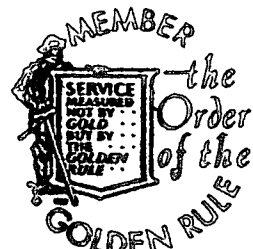

When making plans for this coming Sunday, be sure to include a visit to the newly renovated Reimann's Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Home at 205 Union Street in Bay St. Louis. The hours will be from 3 until 6 p.m., during which time we hope to see you.

You have a part

So you want your name in the paper. Or your particular club has done something which merits its name and a report of the activity to appear.

Of course, it's the paper's fault it didn't appear, or it was so late it wasn't news any more. You don't like it. We at the Sea Coast Echo don't like it either. We want to report every bit of NEWS that occurs in Hancock County... that's our job. But we have our limitations.

Did you ever stop to think that your club's publicity chairman didn't place in or write in a report, or maybe it was your bowling league secretary. In the latter case the sponsors most likely will squawk. In the former, you can all just sit down and talk about how lousy the paper is—how it favors the Pin-Ups or Strikeouts. Our Lady of the Gulf or First Baptist Church of Waveland, the Jaycees, and Bay-Waveland Garden Club. These, may we note, are among the organizations with responsible publicity chairman or officials. Their news appears in our news columns because they let us know what they are doing.

Now when a story does not appear of a public money-spending body that's our fault. Our duty is to let you know, at least in our concept of journalism, what your tax-money-spending bodies are doing. Our advice? Simply get yourself an alert public information officer.

It's worth you thinking about and doing something about—not just sitting back and complaining.—JdeSG

Dogs again Our Readers Write

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
I didn't write the unsigned letter about dogs in your "Readers Write" column, but I'd have a hard time convincing my friends, the Mayor, yes! the sheriff and others that I didn't—because they all know how I feel about stray dogs—

Our lovely town has "gone to the dogs," everyone admits it, what good is a stray dog law when it isn't enforced.

By the way I was bitten by one of those lovely dumb animals that don't bite anyone.

LOUISE MARKEY
Waveland.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
After reading the grand jury's report relative to the extension and expensive repairs to the present Courthouse, also the building of a new one.

When the Jaycees' meeting where many suggestions were made to remedy the professed horrible conditions of our present courthouse, not one came up with the pertinent issue of where the money is coming from. It seems to me a county admittedly in financial difficulties that this should be the thought No. 1.

Our assessor and board of supervisors are going to be confronted with the serious matter of replacing the assessed values lost by the acquisition of 12,000 to 13,000 acres by the Federal Government under NASA program.

We cannot overlook our taxpayers are now paying the maintenance and should be seriously considered when spending their money.

I do not profess to have the solutions of all our problems, but have the experience of 23 years of the different departments, excepting the legal aspect.

Views of Others

Interstate Route 10

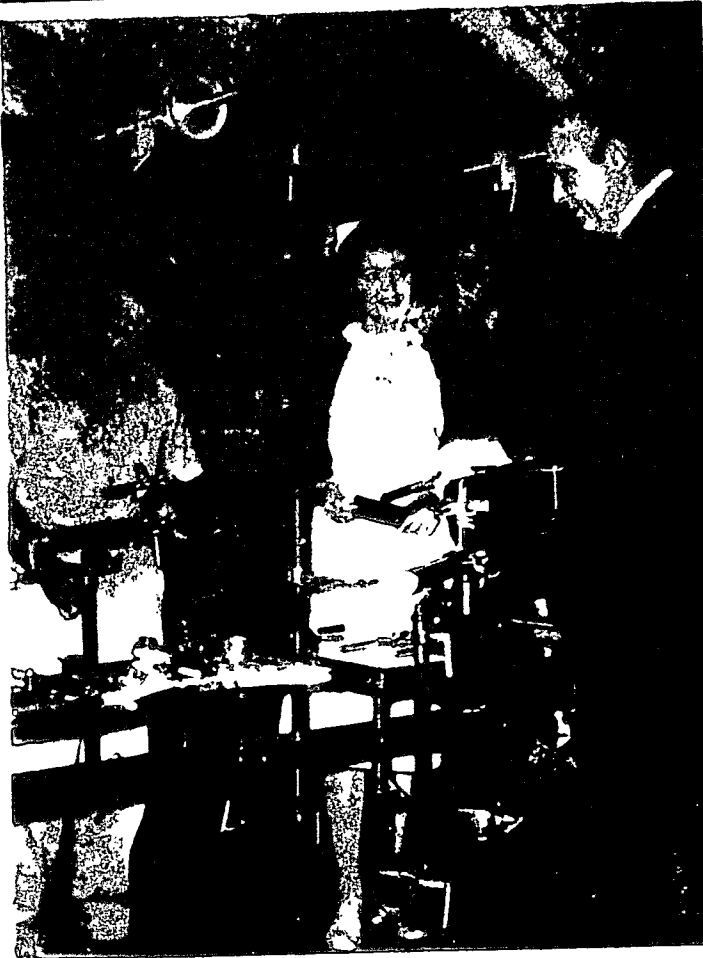

There is some agitation by groups on the Mississippi Coast for changing the proposed route of Interstate Highway 10 to go north through Nicholson and Picayune instead of following the route proposed originally to the Coast.

This proposed change, however, is being opposed by other groups along the Coast.

Efforts to direct this route along the proposed Nicholson-Picayune route appear along the Mississippi Coast, especially as it is a dangerous move as far as the Coast is concerned. There is no question all the way across it.

As it is now, they could get off Interstate 10 at Pass Christian or Bay St. Louis, transfer to U.S. 90 and travel to Ocean Springs or Pascagoula, and with another four miles get back on the interstate highway.

We do not know what the outcome of such a movement will be but we certainly are opposed to moving Highway Interstate 10 to go state 10 any further north than four or five miles from the Coast.

HANDSOME HOSPITAL GIFT—Inspecting this $2,000 orthopedic table given to Hancock General Hospital this week by Dr. Jack Diamond of Stidell, right, are Paul Henley, maintenance man, and Miss Jo Ann Benigno, R.N., who recently joined the nursing staff. Administrator Thomas O. Logue expressed appreciation for the equipment which will enable Hancock General to provide the most modern care for patients in this field.

Bay Jaycees

get '64 state

farmer dinner

Bay St. Louis Jaycees were awarded the 1964 Mississippi Outstanding Young Farmer Banquet at the state mid-winter meeting in Greenvale last weekend.

The event will take place in November, honoring outstanding young farmers from throughout the state. The Mississippi winner will be selected here and will enter the national competition.

This will be the first statewide Jaycee function ever held in Bay St. Louis and is expected to attract between 150 and 200 people from all over Mississippi.

J. C. Koenig, local Jaycee president, submitted Bay St. Louis' bid at the Greenwood meeting. He said this week, "We hope to make this the finest affair of its kind ever held in the state."

"We feel that this is an excellent opportunity to show our City to a large number of people from every corner of Mississippi."

Attending the state meeting from here, were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Koenig, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stidell, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marengo, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. North, Charles Carter, Jr., and Thomas Logue. The local club also received the Man-Mile Award for having the largest number of registered delegates, traveling the longest distance.

Decorating is done for SJA's big ball

The most extensive decorating project to date for a St. Joseph Carnival Ball is now underway in the school gymnasium. The entire ceiling will be covered and stage and backdrops are to receive colorful and unusually original treatment.

The band will play for dancing by those attending the ball for at least an hour after the children and presentation of the court and royalty.

PLAYERS CIVIC CARNIVAL - Jessie Terrell is led by Robert Vossure as she led the Veterans Civic Club Carnival Ball Monday night.

Two top Tigers fouled out before the third quarter was over, and five Stanislaus players left the court on fouls, one in the first half.

Four Tigers hit twin figures. Richard Schaefer scored 15 and was followed by Leroy Lake with 14, Ross Maurig 13, and Teddo Thomas 11. Center Waymon Carr tallied 17, forward Curtis Mothorne 11, and guard Nedie Ledner 10 for Stanislaus.

The following night, Bay High ran into a hot-shooting Gulfport crew with tenacious defenses, and just couldn't find the range. Gulfport won 53-42, leading all the way. Schaefer had 15 and guard Charles Bennett 10 for Bay High.

In other play leading to the finals, Pass Christian eliminated Long Beach 57-43 Thursday behind Larry Ledner's 21 points. The next night, Pass led Harrison Central nearly all the way and were on top by seven points in the fourth quarter before falling 53-48.

Isometric program in progress at SSC

An isometric program is now underway for students at St. Stanislaus College as the spring sports program nears. Brother Dacian, athletic director, said this week.

The muscle development training has been in vogue particularly at LSU recently and is gaining support throughout the country.

Some boys also are working out in track. That sport along with baseball and Stanislaus' debut in golf will start the first week of April. Spring training for football opens Feb. 28.

Playground equipment is P-TA topic

In event of nuclear attack and resulting radioactive fallout, farmers would have advantages, but at the same time special responsibilities and problems that urban dwellers would not have.

Their advantage would be that most rural areas are outside what are usually considered possible enemy targets, explains Johnnie Sarnor, associate agricultural economist of the Cooperative Extension Service. This means the majority of farm families would not likely be affected by a direct blast.

"Their main concern would be fallout, and this is a problem that something can be done about," he states.

The farmer must protect not only his family, but livestock, food, feed and water for livestock from contamination. His problem is longer lasting, since the need for food after an attack would be critical.

A circular explaining that radiation is and how to cope with it on farms has been prepared by the Federal Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Ask the local county agent or home demonstration agent for a copy of "Fallout and Your Farm Food."

Fallout, the circular explains, contains radioactive materials, but the radiation from fallout does not make anything else radioactive. It is only when radioactive particles—the dust blown up by a nuclear blast—get into food supplies that food or water become unsuitable for use.

"This means that preventing contamination of food, feed and water supplies is as simple as protecting it against dust," Sarnor points out.

Animals are another matter. Like humans, the radiation can harm them. But shielding such as a barn or other building can give

A report on playground equipment for Bay Central elementary schools was made when the P-TA met Tuesday night in Bay High gymnasium. This is the club's project for the year. Chinning bars will be set up as soon as the weather permits, basketball goals are installed and chains for swings have come in. One half dozen basketballs, four volleyball balls and nets will be issued.

It was decided to select a carnival committee for coming years to decide on rules for the parade and on costumes to be worn by the court.

Superintendent Joe D. McCullough discussed the increase in pupils and stated that study is now underway to determine if and when additional facilities will be needed.

Mrs. A. J. Ramage of Hancock General Hospital auxiliary spoke on the teenage volunteer program for the hospital.

hem a lot of protection. The big problem with animals is having a safe supply of food and water available to last through the danger period.

Not all animals are susceptible to radiation to the same degree. Poultry can stand twice as much radiation as cattle. Chickens and eggs would be one of the most dependable food sources during such an emergency.

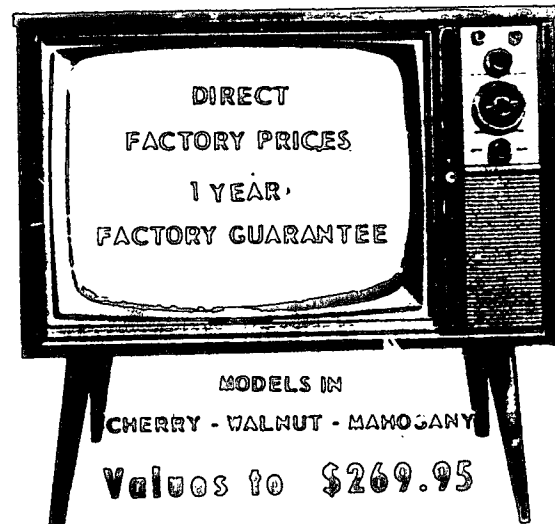

The circular contains this and much other information about the problems farm families would face. It tells how to protect food and how to make foods and feed that have been exposed to radiation safe to eat. It tells how to decontaminate water for human and animal use.

Mrs. Jack Baum, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, reports the dinner at the Legion home last Thursday night to obtain funds to send local girls to Girl's State was most successful and asks that we express her thanks to everyone who contributed to the project in any way.

Happy birthday Jimmy Lagasse—Jimmy cut his cake Tuesday, Feb. 12. (that's a pretty famous birth date, old boy!) Teddy Morel is passing out cigars—his first child, a son, was born Tuesday.

Elaine and B. E. Seale visited their Clermont Harbor summer home for the first time since Elaine suffered a broken leg early last month. . . and we discovered how the accident occurred—the was hanging curtains in the kitchen of their newly purchased Jefferson Parish home while balancing on the sink. . . son Ronnie told her he was taking the chair upon which she had climbed into the next room and she stepped down thinking he hadn't yet moved it. . . the result a break and a split home—she's still on crutches, but at least able to get around.

Peace pilgrim

The Peace Pilgrim, dainty grey haired lady of indeterminate age, who has in the past ten years walked 21,500 of her 25,000 mile goal to promote world-wide peace, attracted quite a bit of attention as she passed through Bay St. Louis Saturday afternoon. Clad in navy slacks, long sleeved matching shirt beneath a heavy cotton tunic with pockets holding all of her earthly possessions, she has walked through each of the 48 states, ten Canadian provinces and parts of Mexico, and states that in all of her travels never has she had even one unpleasant experience—that everywhere she has gone she's found kindness and generosity. Local good samaritans included August Scalfidi, who gave her food and Bea Georgi who generously allowed her to sleep in one of her new motel rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Vorhush weekendend in the Nicholson Ave. home—their first trip to the coast since November. . . and that's quite a long spell for them to remain away from our area.

Miss Proctor, Mr. Franks are married on Saturday

Miss Ann Ada Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stephen Proctor of Clermont Harbor, became the bride of Howard Chandler Franks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Franks of New Orleans, at 11 a.m. Sunday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Rev. Michael Kelly officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar banked with arrangements of white flowers.

Mr. Proctor gave his daughter in marriage. Miss Linda Herbig of Clermont Harbor and New Orleans was maid of honor while Jerry Poche of New Orleans was best man. Ushering were William LeBlanc and Richard Stephen Proctor, Jr., brother of the bride, both of Clermont Harbor.

A reception followed at the Clermont-Lakeshore Youth Center where a white lace cloth covered the bride's table. Crystal candelabras flanked the wedding cake and white flowers completed the decorations. The bride's mother, Mrs. Proctor, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Franks, received with the wedding party.

After a wedding trip to Lookout Mountain, Tenn., the couple will be at home on Carrollton Avenue, New Orleans.

Among out of town guests here for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Herbig, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reusser, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gomez, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kingsmill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Kingsmill, Miss Lorraine

A measure of progress

A good way to measure the progress of an area is by its increase in electrical usage. During the past 12 months, the over-all consumption of our residential, commercial and industrial customers has increased 17.1 percent.

To stay well ahead of customer requirements, Mississippi Power Company plans to spend $10.1 million for construction of electric facilities and for improvement of customer service.

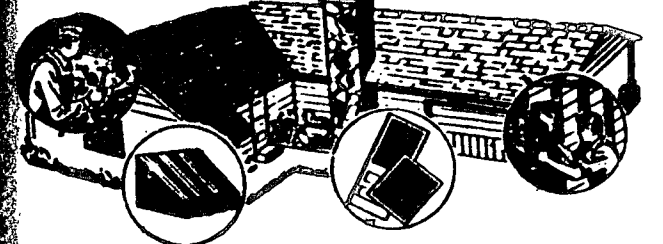

Among the major projects are: a 33-mile, 115-kv transmission line from Biloxi to Pascagoula; primary substations at Ocean Springs, Pascagoula and the Standard Oil Refinery; substation and transmission facilities near Meridian; and the start of construction of a new steam-electric generating plant in Greene County, Alabama, to be owned jointly by Mississippi and Alabama Power Companies.

Other projects include more than 20 miles of high-voltage transmission line from Bay St. Louis to Picayune, a substation at Picayune; additional substation capacity at Shubuta and Poplarville; and the strengthening of distribution lines in Hattiesburg, Laurel, Meridian, Forest and Taylorsville.

Building for the future is our way of making sure you'll have all the electricity you want when you want it.

Girls prevail
 on the courts

While all three county boys' basketball teams won their share of games in 1962-63, girls' play appeared to be falling off. However, when the dust cleared after last week's Sub-District 8 (No. 3) A-AA Basketball Tournament in the Bay High gym, Bay St. Louis' quintets were gone and Bay High girls and St. Joseph Academy, two schools who've had more than average difficulty winning games this season, were on top of the heap.

Bay High girls won their second game of the season only three weeks ago, but have now won five of their last seven. SJA, ordinarily one of the best teams on the coast, looked experienced and showed it all season, but like the Tigerettes find themselves in this week's District 8 tournament in Gulfport after an upset triumph last Friday.

With such good clubs entered in the Gulfport affair as undefeated St. Martin, once-beaten Poplarville, and powerful Pearl River Central, Bay High and SJA probably will not advance any further. However, after last week, we're not going to bet any money against either!

Our picks for all-tourney

Quickly, we'd like to offer our choices for an all-tournament team in both divisions.

In girls' play, Jo Mary Artigues of SJA, Melva Luke and Susie Doering of Bay High, and Jerry Evans of Harrison Central deserve all our money mention at this time.

Among the guards, Mary Middleton of Bay High, and Linda Lizano and Gwen Ladner of Pass Christian were the best we saw. In boys' competition, Gayle Farmer of Harrison Central, Jerry Gaudier and Glenn Cannon of Gulfport, Larry Ladner of Pass Christian, Richard Schaefer of Bay High, and Waymon Carr of St. Stanislaus land on our all-tournament team.

It's not our policy to discuss officials' decisions. It's difficult to referee any sport - especially basketball where there is much movement.

However, speaking of officiating in general, it seems to us that there have been too many quick calls this season, not regarding fouls but regarding jumps. We remember when two players had to both have possession for a jump ball to be ruled. Now, anytime two players touch the ball at the same time a jump is called. We're for changing the ruling on this!

Sills' boys meet challenge

Hancock North Central Hawks, state champs four years ago, start the long road toward what they hope will be another title this weekend in Gulfport.

We asked head coach mentor Billy Dale Sills this week about a column in The Times-Picayune indicating he would not return to Hancock Central next season unless he won the state championship. The Hawk coach denied all quotes attributed to him. "I read the article but know nothing about it—I never even met that writer," Coach Sills remarked.

It is possible for a coach to go out and automatically win the state championship. Even with the best material in the state, upsets can happen to anybody at anytime. And HNC hasn't displayed the best material in the state this season!

The Hawks have an excellent team, one which could well contend for state honors. And the county school has one of the best coaches in the state. Last season he took a team of sophomores and led them to victory-after-victory. Sills gets the team "up" for the big games and tournaments, and keeps them high for other contests.

Each of his seasons at North Central, Sills has won an amazing number of games. The school certainly isn't going to let a coach with his proven record get away. Thus contrary to reports, Sills will almost surely remain at Hancock Central.

"It's just not that easy," Sills stated regarding winning state high honors. We agree, and commend Billy Sills for a good coaching job no matter how his team fares in further competition.

Bowling big shots

Bill Pittman, one of the Bay's best-improving bowlers, rolled a beautiful 250 a couple of weeks ago in league competition. Other high scores lately include 243 by Darold Carter and Buck Kimball, and 237 by Al Lambton.

Among the younger set, St. Stanislaus student John Scalfide has been making the loudest noise at Bay Bowl. In raising his average several pins in recent weeks, Scalfide has rolled 200 on various occasions. His high is a non-league 234.

CHEVROLET TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocket-book. There are differences.

A Chevrolet truck welcomes comparison. Look at the little things on it—latches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging. The body floor is made of select wood to eliminate the rust problem and give you better footing. The lower side panels are double-walled; you might dent the inside but it won't show through.

Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

If you are going to need a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new '63 so you can examine it?

Tigerettes top SJA for sub-dist.title

Bay High's vastly-improved girls walked off with the 1963 Sub-District Eight (No. 3) Basketball Tournament championship Saturday night, whipping arch-rival St. Joseph Academy 41-34 in the tourney final, played in the Bay High gymnasium.

Gulfport's Commodores edged Harrison Central 57-52 for the boys' title.

All four finalists will participate this week in the District Eight A-AA Tournament at Gulfport.

Cochman Seymour's Tigerettes, losers of seven of their first eight games this season, started fast against SJA and staged a fourth-quarter rally to post a well-earned victory. The Tigerettes led 12-6, 25-15, and 33-23 by quarters before the Gold Jays cut the margin to six points midway in the final stanza.

Senior Susie Doering, shooting brilliantly from outside, scored 17 points to lead the Tigerette scoring parade. Close behind, with 16, was sophomore Melva Luke, whose driving lay-ups kept SJA defenses off stride all night. Jo Mary Artigues kept the Gold Jays in contention with 24 markers, while Susie Rhodes tallied the other 10.

Bay High guards played their best ball of the season; sophomore Mary Middleton was particularly impressive before fouling out in the fourth period. The victory marked the second in three attempts by Bay High over Mrs. Joseph Colson's young Gold Jays.

In the hotly-contested boys' finale, Gulfport barely held off a Red Rebel fourth quarter comeback to down Harrison Central for the third time in four tries this season.

The Commodores and Rebs were deadlocked 8-8 after one quarter, but Gulfport led 22-20 and 41-33 at other rest stops. While an overflow packed house cheered wildly, the Gulf Coast Conference champs came roaring back in the fourth quarter, closing the gap to only two points with a minute remaining.

When, with 52 seconds showing on the clock, officials called an infraction on the Gulfport quintet and handed the ball over to Central, the Rebels apparently had a chance to tie the score. Gulfport head coach Bert Jenkins objected to the ruling, however, and after much discussion among Jenkins, Red Rebel coach Roland Lader, and refs, a rules book was obtained and the 15-minute delay ended with Gulfport regaining possession as Jenkins' protest was upheld. The Commodores then held tight, drawing a pair of fouls, and freezing out the clock. Jerry Gaudier of Gulfport and Edwin Duncan of Harrison Central, two of the smallest men on the court, scored 19 points to lead their respective teams. The Red Rebels were handicapped when Gayle Farmer fouled out in the third quarter, and Duncan and Dale Farmer committed the limit of personals in the final period.

City Commissioner J. Cyril Glover presented trophies to the winners and runners-up following the finals.
